GENERAL CONDITIONS.

10. Parties tendering may do so by either of the three following modes, at their option, viz. :—

1. The whole of the supplies of every description, in each district, may be included in one tender, as at present.
2. Or the supplies may be tendered in subdivisions, as below, by a separate tender for each sub-division, viz. :—
   1. The Military Ration
   2. The several Rations for Exiles and Convicts as described from 2 to 11 inclusive
   3. The Ration of Forage
   4. The Ration of Fuel and Light
   5. The Supplies for Hospitals
   6. The Supplies for Naval Purposes and Penal Settlements
   7. The Supplies for General Purposes.
3. Or the various articles comprising the several rations referred to, as well as all those required for hospitals and other purposes, may be tendered separately or singly, by weight and measure. The undersigned reserving to himself the power of accepting tenders for supplying by any of these modes which he may find most expedient.

11. Contractors shall have at all times on the spot a supply of fourteen days in reserve, in the care of a competent agent, to whom reference may be had in the contractor's absence, in default of which, the Commissariat Officer, or other duly authorised person, may purchase at his, the contractor's expense, such articles as are not forthcoming: and in the event of repeated failures in this respect, together with other causes of dissatisfaction arising from the bad qualities of the supplies as decided by Boards of Survey or arbitrators, it shall be in the power of the undersigned or his successors in office to cancel the contract and enforce the penalty.

12. In the event of a difference of opinion between the contractor and the party receiving the supplies, as to the quality, the same is to be decided according to the practice of the service. But in country districts, where a Board of Survey cannot be conveniently assembled, the party objecting will name one person as Arbitrator, the Contractor or his agent another, and these two will (previously to any other proceeding on their part) concur in naming a third as Umpire, who, in event of the Arbitrators not agreeing in opinion, will be called upon for his decision, [which shall be final. The only question referred to the Board, or to the Arbitrators, will be, whether or not the article objected to be such as, by his contract, the Contractor is bound to deliver; and if the Board, Arbitrators, or Umpire, shall decide that the article is not according to the conditions of the Contract, it must be immediately replaced by the Contractor, failing which it will be procured, and the expense charged to his account. In cases where the article is of a perishable nature, or from some other cause injury would be sustained, either by the parties to whom the rations are due, or to the Contractor, by waiting for a Board of Survey, the Head of the Department, or Officer in charge of the party or parties for whom the rations are to be received, shall have power to reject such article or articles as are obviously of inferior quality or in improper condition, it being distinctly understood that he will be responsible to the Government for so doing, and that the Contractor will have a right to appeal; although, in the mean time, he must take back the rejected article, and supply good in its stead, failing which it will be obtained by the Officer or party requiring it, and the expense charged to the Contractor.

13. It shall be in the power of either party to limit the duration of the contract, by giving, in writing, a notice of three calendar months to the opposite party, and to end the contract at the expiration of that period, it being understood that such notice can be given only from the first day of a month, and within the period for which the contract is made, or agreed to be made; and not later than the 1st of August.

14. The Contractor shall prepare his own account monthly according to the prescribed form; and shall receive payment on the production thereof, with the requisite vouchers in a complete state, before the termination of the succeeding month.

15. The value of all packages shall be included in the prices demanded.

16. Persons wishing to tender are requested to apply either at this office, or to the Commissariat Officer in charge of the several stations, who will furnish them with printed forms for the purpose, and communicate further particulars; and as adequate security will be required for the due fulfilment of the contracts, each tender must be accompanied by a letter from the parties proposed as such, stating that they are willing to become bound as securities for the contractor accordingly.

17. The amount of the bonds required in the several districts are as follows:—if contracted for collectively, viz. :—Sydney, £5000; Parramatta, £1000; Liverpool and Campbelltown, £500; Illawarra, £500; Windsor, £500; Penrith, £500; Hartley, £500; Bathurst, £500; Newcastle, £1000; Maitland, £500; Port Macquarie, £500; Moreton Bay, £500; Port Phillip, £500.
The several bonds to be executed on or before the 1st March next, otherwise fresh tenders will be re advertised for.

18. Tenders, in duplicate, are to be enclosed in a separate envelope, addressed to the undersigned, marked "Supplies for 1846," and no tender made in consequence of this advertisement shall be withdrawn or altered, but those accepted shall be given within eight days of the time of opening.

19. Flour in place of bread to be given for the Military ration, when required, in the proportion of 14 2-7th ozs. of the former, for 16 ozs of the latter.

20. The Contractor of the district of Sydney will be bound to furnish the rations and articles particularised under the head of provisions, No. 1 to 16, not only for the purposes specified, but also for any other purposes of the Military, Naval, and Convict services, should there be occasion for it.

THE SAVINGS' BANK.

WE have been favoured with an interesting table showing the state of the Savings' Bank at various periods during the last ten years. From 1836 to 1842 the deposits went on steadily encreasing from £44,875 to £183,736; and it is worthy of remark, that although it was in October, 1840, that the pressure of the times commenced, it was not until the beginning of 1843 that it reached the working classes; in 1841 and 1842, when merchants and graziers were being forced into the Insolvent Court by hundreds, the Savings' Bank deposits increased upwards of £30,000. In 1843 there was the memorable "run" upon the Bank, when £50,000 was suddenly withdrawn, and at the end of the year the amount in hand was only £139,804. Since then it has gone on steadily progressing, and on the 31st December, 1845, amounted to £158,700.

The disposal of the funds has also varied considerably. Up to 1842 a large proportion of the amount of the deposits was employed in discounting bills, £74,000 being so lent in that year. In 1843 the bank ceased discounting (except by way of renewal) and the amount of bills under discount immediately went down to £27,000 and now amounts to the comparatively small sum of £7172. The amount lent on mortgage went on gradually increasing from £31,305 in 1836, to £116,871 in 1843, since which time there has been a slight decrease, the amount on the 31st December last being £102,771.

In 1842, the Bank, for the first time, became possessed of Government securities, having obtained debentures to the amount of £1600; in 1844 this increased to £23,000, and in 1845 to £25,900.

The cash now lying idle in the Bank amounts to the large sum of £30,000, and is likely to be increased by the Government paying off the debentures (or a large portion of them) now held by the Bank, and here is the great difficulty in the management of the institution. While one monied interest has influence to prevent the Savings' Bank from lending money on bills, and another restrains the amount to be lent upon mortgages, the only resource that the institution has, is in lending money to Government, or public bodies. The Government is more likely to pay off the amount it has already borrowed than to borrow more, and the Corporation of Sydney, while managed as at present, is not likely to avail itself of this opportunity of improving the city. Unless something is done, it is evident that the interest to the depositors will be little more than nominal, which will be an event deeply to be deplored, not only for the sake of the depositors themselves, but for the injurious effect it will have upon the colony at large.

We give below the table whence these particulars have been obtained.

RETURN of the amount of Deposits in the New South Wales Savings' Bank, and of the amount Lent on Bills, on Mortgages, and on Government Securities, at the dates, undermentioned.

| DEPOSITS. | | LENT. | | |

| " 1845 | 158,700 | 7,172 | 102,771 | 25,900 |

N.B.—The amount shown as lent on Mortgages included interest due at the respective dates and on 31st December, 1844, there was of cash uninvested in the Bank, £8344, and on 31st December, 1845, there was cash in the Bank, £30,000.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

SUPREME COURT.—BANCO SITTINGS.

SATURDAY.

BEFORE their Honors the CHIEF JUSTICE, and Mr. Justice DICKINSON.

NEW ATTORNEY.

Mr. WINDEYER moved the admission of Mr. Archibald Little as an attorney, solicitor, and proctor, of the Supreme Court of New South Wales, supporting his motion by the usual affidavits as to Mr Little having served the prescribed period of clerkship in the office of Mr. G. R. Nichols, and of having given the customary notice of his intended application; as well as a certificate from the examiners as to his (Mr. Little's) competency.

The COURT directed Mr. Little to be admitted; and the usual oaths of office were then administered to him.

THE QUEEN v. BELL AND HAMILTON.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL moved for a special Jury for the trial of Thomas Bell and John Hamilton, during the next Criminal Sessions.

The COURT granted the application, and directed that the trial should take place on Monday, the 6th of April next, at the King-street Court House.

THE QUEEN v. JOHN COURT.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL moved that the personal recognizances entered into by the above-named prisoner to appear and take his trial when called upon be estreated, and that a Bench warrant be issued for his apprehension. The prisoner, he said, had been committed in April last for an assault upon one Hewitt, with intent to murder him; but the trial had been postponed at the July and October sittings, in consequence of Hewitt not being sufficiently recovered from his injuries to appear. Since then the prisoner, although not tried, had been discharged by one of the Judges under a writ of habeas corpus, having first entered into his own recognizances to appear when required. During the last criminal sittings the prisoner was called upon in due course to appear and take his trial, but was not forthcoming.

The COURT granted the application.

DOE DEM. HARRIS AND OTHERS v. ROWE.

Mr. WINDEYER moved upon notice that the judgment against the casual ejector obtained herein, and all subsequent proceedings, be set aside, for irregularity, and that Rolla O'Farrell, the mortgagee, or the tenants in possession be let in to defend. In support of this motion there was an affidavit as to the existence of a good defence on the merits; and a number of irregularities in the proceedings were alluded to, the principal of which was, that the judgment had been obtained before the expiration of the time mentioned in the notice for appearance. With reference to this objection, it appeared that the time mentioned in the notice was, "the ensuing term," and that judgment was signed before the term expired, which was alleged to be irregular, as the notice allowed the whole of the term to appear and plead.

Messrs. FOSTER and BROADHURST opposed the motion, contending, with regard to the time of obtaining judgment, which was principally relied upon, that the mode of proceeding adopted in the present case was perfectly regular, and in accordance with the usual practice, as it was open for the party giving notice of an intention to move "in term," to apply to the Court at any time while the term lasted.

The COURT sustained the objection as to the irregularity of the judgment: the application was therefore granted, with costs.

M'FEE v. FIDDING.

Mr. WINDEYER moved upon notice for judgment, as in case of a nonsuit, for not going to trial within a reasonable time.

Mr. FISHER showed cause against the application, and, after taking some preliminary objections, produced an affidavit from the plaintiff's attorney, by which it appeared that the delay had arisen from the defendant's own solicitations.

The COURT refused the application with costs, remarking that it would be most monstrous if a defendant was allowed to come in and take advantage of a delay occasioned by his or her own entreaty.

SMART v. RUSSELL.

This was an action by the Sydney Bank against the solvent partner in the firm of Russell Brothers, for a balance due from the said firm, in which the plea had been demurred to. The point in demurrer was, that the plea left it uncertain whether the balance due to the Sydney Banking Company on account of a current banking account, was on account of other transactions, or was partly in respect of other transactions; and also because the plea containing, as it did, an allegation of certain payments by the defendant, having been appropriated by the Company as therein mentioned, was in effect a plea of payment by John Russell after the dissolution of the partnership, and should have been so pleaded.

The point was argued between Mr. MICHIE for the plaintiff, and Mr. BROADHURST for the defendant.

The COURT gave judgment in favour of the plaintiff, being of opinion that the plea was substantially one of payment, and should have been pleaded in that character. Leave was granted, however, to amend on payment of costs.

DARBY v. SMITH.

This was an action on promises, in which the defendant was sued as the member of a firm; and the plea was, that a certain deed had been entered into, whereby the plaintiff amongst others had promised, under certain conditions, to abstain from pressing his demand. This deed, the plea alleged, was in the possession of certain parties beyond seas, so that the defendant was unable to produce it.

This plea was demurred to by Mr. DARVALL, upon the ground that the defendant was not entitled to obtain benefit from the deed without producing it; although he admitted that time might be obtained for its production.

Mr. BROADHURST supported the plea, contending that the very impossibility of producing the deed was a sufficient excuse for its non-production.

The COURT sustained the demurrer; but granted leave to amend generally on payment of costs.

The Court then adjourned till ten o'clock on Monday (this) morning, when the trial of causes by juries of four will commence.

THE PENTONVILLE EXILES.

WE copied a few days ago from the Geelong Advertiser, a paragraph to the effect, that in consequence of Dr. Hampton not being able personally to visit those districts in which the Pentonville exiles, who had come out under his superintendence, had been settled, he had, with a view to framing the report required from him by the Home Government, forwarded a series of queries to the authorities in those districts, requesting answers thereto. In the Geelong Advertiser of the 28th January we have a report of a public meeting, which was held for the purpose of considering the questions submitted, and also the replies which were agreed to, after that Committee's report had been made. It appears with respect to the fourth query—"Are the majority of the respectable settlers in your neighbourhood disposed to receive favourably and encourage further importation of Pentonville exiles, and about what number would annually find employment in your district?" the Committee proposed the following reply:—

The fourth query the Committee conceive requires some degree of caution in answering, as well as a few important suggestions explanatory of the views of the public. As stated in the previous questions, the general conduct of the men by the Sir George Seymour has been exemplary; but future arrivals of this class of persons might possibly disappoint the expectations formed of them, and the Committee would therefore hesitate in recommending a too extensive immigration of such persons upon a lasting basis, under the apprehension that the district might eventually be converted into an acknowledged refuge for this or other classes of convicted persons from the mother country. The disproportion at present existing between the sexes in Port Phillip forms another material subject for consideration; and the Committee would respectfully suggest that whatever number of male exiles the Home Government might consider it expedient to forward to the colony, a suitable proportion of females should be sent out to counterbalance this increasing evil. From information founded upon a knowledge of the existing stock of the colony, and the quantity of land in cultivation, the Committee consider that for the next three years the Geelong or Western division of Australia Felix will require an annual supply of not less than twelve hundred labourers. Making due allowance for probable immigration, the Committee state it as their opinion, that from four to five hundred exiles would meet with ready and remunerative employment; and provided that due care be exercised in the selection of the men, and that the foregoing suggestion be attended to, the Committee confidently believe that the majority of the respectable settlers in the district are disposed to receive favourably, and to encourage the importation of this number annually for the next three years.

But on an amendment being proposed, the reply which will be seen below was agreed to. The following are the queries and the replies in their regular order:—

How have the Pentonville men landed from the Sir George Seymour behaved in general?

1. In reference to the first query, the Committee have much pleasure in being enabled to state that the men landed from the Sir George Seymour are generally reported to have conducted themselves very well, and behaved in an orderly and respectful manner.

What is the general opinion of their employers respecting them?

2. From the experience of several members of this Committee, and from the best private information the Committee are enabled to collect, they have every reason to believe that those gentlemen who have employed the exiles by the Sir George Seymour entertain a very favourable opinion of them.

Has their demeanour and conduct been different from that of the Van Diemen's Land expirees, or such conditionally pardoned men as are generally employed in your district?

3. The men by the Sir George Seymour have been generally unexceptionable in their conduct, and respectful in their demeanour, and have proved willing and efficient workmen. The Van Diemen's Land expirees, and such conditionally pardoned men as are usually employed in this district, are frequently insolent in their bearing, and there are few in whom a master can place much reliance.

Are the majority of the respectable settlers in your neighbourhood disposed to receive favourably and encourage further importation of Pentonville exiles, and about what number would annually find employment in your district?

4. These questions must be considered with reference to two most important contingencies, namely—the demand for labour arising from the flow of capital to this colony, and the future supply of free immigrants. The impression is that 1200 additional men would find remunerative employment annually in the district adjacent to and westward of Geelong exclusively; and pending the resumption of free immigration on a scale adequate to the demand of the whole colony, that this number of Pentonville exiles would be received to the general satisfaction and benefit of this district. But the Committee would wish it to be distinctly understood that this demand is only for a class of men equally reformed and respectable as the number already sent, and that under no circumstances, whether arising from the supply of free immigrants or a reduction in the demand for labour from any cause, it is expedient to send hither Pentonville Exiles at a time when the labour market is adequately supplied from other sources. The Committee would also respectfully suggest that the disproportion at present existing between the sexes in Port Phillip, forms a material subject for consideration, and that whatever number of male exiles the Home Government may consider it expedient to send to the colony, their wives and families and a suitable proportion of females should be sent out to counterbalance this great and increasing evil.

Have the trades taught the Pentonville men, in the prison, been any advantage to their employers or themselves; and if so, what trades have been found most useful?

5. The trades taught the Pentonville Exiles have been of decided advantage to their employers, and a source of profit to themselves. The trades most generally required are, carpenters, masons, wheelwrights, blacksmiths, coopers, cabinet makers, joiners, and all trades of a domestic nature, such as tailors, shoemakers, &c.

Have the members of your Committee, or of the Society in general, employed many of the Sir George Seymour's men?

6. Several members of this Committee, and many connected with the Geelong Emigration Society, have employed the Exiles by the Sir George Seymour, the majority of whom are still in the service of their original employers.

FLASH JACK.—This specimen of the old school was brought before the Police Court on Saturday under the following circumstances:—A settler named Dennis M'Carthy, from Maneroo, having been visiting some friends in Campbell-street, got rather tipsy by treating his friends with liquor, in the "Packhorse," Campbell-street; and about eleven o'clock requested that he might be accommodated with a bed for the night, and in order to show that he was a respectable man, he pulled out a roll of paper consisting of £45 in bank notes, which he counted over at the bar in the presence of several individuals. The landlady told him that his request would be complied with; but as he had so much money about him, he had better give it into her keeping till morning, when it would be returned to him. Dennis was very anxious to get to bed, but resolutely refused to entrust the mistress of the house with his cash. An aged relative of the owner of the "Packhorse" being present, proposed showing the gentleman (Mr. M'Carthy) to bed, on which Flash Jack, who was drinking in the tap, volunteered to carry the candle for her up stairs, and assist her with getting the gentleman to his bed-room. His offer was accepted, and the old woman having shown the pair the room where M'Carthy was to sleep, left them. M'Carthy was no sooner in the bed-room than he began to count his notes, laying them out in a parcel, which he again rolled up. John Russell, alias Flash Jack, told him there might be a mistake in his count, and if he chose he (Russell) would look them over; M'Carthy gave the notes to him for that purpose, and in about a minute after Russell returned them to him, saying it's all right, and immediately after left the room. M'Carthy began to count his notes again, but found he had only £19. He made the best of his way down stairs to get the matter investigated; but was informed that the man he was inquiring for had on coming down stairs, walked straight out at the front door. An immediate alarm was given to the police, who apprehended Russell in Castlereagh-street about one o'clock on Saturday morning; but he had only 9s. 6d. on him. He was brought before the court on the same day, and committed for trial.

THE OVERLAND EXPEDITION.—A gentleman recently arrived from the Bathurst district, states that from intelligence received there previous to his departure, it had been ascertained that the overland expedition, under Sir Thomas Mitchell, had not yet arrived at Fort Bourke, and had fallen somewhat short of water; so that the men were placed upon reduced allowance. Before the expedition arrived at one of the last stations on the Bogan, a great many of the working bullocks were knocked up, and Sir Thomas had to purchase some unbroken cattle, in order to get on. Some of the flour had also been left behind or lost, and the gelatine had been so far spoiled by turning sour, that Sir Thomas had given it away to the aborigines.

PAROCHIAL ASSOCIATION.—The annual meeting of the St. Lawrence Parochial Association will be held in the New School-room at seven o'clock this evening.

AN OLD SNEAK CAUGHT.—About three o'clock on Friday afternoon, as a youth, in charge of Messrs. Spyers' premises, Jamison-street, was sitting at the desk, he saw a hand reach into the room and remove a waistcoat from off a peg within sight of the door, and take it away. He went to the door, and seeing an old woman leaving it, he followed a little way along the street, and on his stopping her, she let the waistcoat drop at her feet. At first she denied all knowledge of it; but afterwards stated that the door being open, she went in to look at the house, and seeing no person in it, she thought it was an empty one, and took the waistcoat for the purpose of selling it, in order to get a little tea and sugar, which she thought there was no harm in doing, as she was upwards of eighty-two years of age, and had been more than forty years in the colony. She was brought before the Mayor on Saturday, under the name of Charlotte Johnson, whose age and residence in the colony are as above stated; but who has spent nearly one-half of her colonial existence in gaols and watch-houses. She was committed for trial.

STREET ROBBERY.—About half-past ten o'clock on Friday night, as a native of India named John Neptune, a seaman belonging to the whaling barque Proteus, was passing along Kent-street, when nearly opposite the Gas Works two men came up to him, knocked him down, took 5s. 8½d. from his pocket, and ran off, an alarm being given the private watchman on that beat pursued the fellows and took one of them, who was brought before the Police Court on Saturday, when he was identified as William Marshall, who had obtained his freedom on the day preceding the robbery. He was fully committed for trial.

STEALING FROM A DWELLING-HOUSE.—On Thursday last, while Margaret Reynolds, residing at Lane Cove, was absent from her house, a man named Charles Clarke, alias Gilderoy, free by servitude, slipped his hand between the door and the wall, pushed back the bolt of the lock, entered the house, went to an unlocked box, took from it £1 11s, and closing the door after him, walked away. The money was not missed till Friday morning, when he was given in charge to a constable for the robbery, on which the prisoner took 8s. from his pocket, and handed it to the prosecutrix, saying "that is all the money I have." It was proved that a few weeks ago, when the prisoner was out of employment, Mrs. Reynolds and her husband gave him board and lodging gratis during a period of three weeks; they had also given him clothing, and performed several other acts of kindness to the prisoner. He was fully committed for trial.

POLICE COURT BUSINESS, SATURDAY.—There were thirty-three cases on the lists, viz.: Eight men for drunkenness, four of whom were discharged, two paid 11s. each, and two, for not paying a like sum, were sent each twenty-four hours to the cells. There were seven cases on the summons list, viz.: One, for assault, was dismissed; one, for refusing a seaman his wages, was arranged out of Court; one case for a breach of indentures, was dismissed, as no parties appeared; four cases for hawking vegetables without a license from the lessee of the George-street Markets—three of the defendants were fined 20s. each and 15s. costs, or to go seven days to gaol, and in the fourth case the information was withdrawn on payment of costs. There were five remanded cases on the list of miscellaneous charges, to wit, Ellen Nicholls, for stealing six shillings from a French seaman, was discharged as to that charge, because the prosecutor did not appear; but being convicted under the Vagrant Act as an idle and disorderly person, was sent to gaol for seven days; two men who had been three days in custody for a violent assault, were allowed bail, each in £80 with sureties in £40, to appear in a week; Charles Cotton, a seaman belonging to the John Woodall, for refusing duty on shipboard, was sent to gaol for seven days, and then to be returned to his ship. Of the thirteen new cases on the list, one apprentice for a breach of his indentures was discharged at the request of the master, and a female for a breach of the peace was admonished and discharged; four females for assault in A'Beckett's Court, were each bound to keep the peace for twelve months, in £10, with sureties in £5 each, as was also a female for a breach of the peace, in Pitt-street; a female for being drunk and disorderly, and a man for being drunk and using obscene language, were each bound to be of good behaviour for twelve months, in £10 with sureties in £5 each. The following parties all free by servitude, were committed for trial; viz. John Russell for stealing £26, and Charlotte Johnson for stealing a waistcoat; William Marshall for a street robbery to the value of 5s. 8½d., and Charles Clarke for robbing a dwelling house of £1 11s.

DESIRABLE PROPERTIES.—We have pleasure in calling attention to the important sales by auction by Mr. Stubbs, this day, at 12 o'clock. The landed properties are certainly choice selections, and will be sold in the following order:—Paradise-place, four houses; two houses, Rushcutter's Bay; farm at Kissing Point; small farm at Lane Cove, and South Australia; also Lord Western's rams; the Arab horse Abdallah, and the improved powerful woolpress.

IMPORTANT TO HAWKERS.—On Saturday last, James Brennan, for hawking vegetable produce at Miller's Point, on the 3rd instant, without a license from the George-street Market lessee; John Benson, for a like offence, in Park-street, on the 31st ultimo; and John Cave, for a like offence, on the 3rd instant, in Pitt-street; were severally convicted and fined in 20s. with 15s. costs, and if not paid immediately to be sent to gaol for seven days. The Mayor in every case informed the defendants that if ever any of them appeared again before him for a similar offence, the highest penalty, which is £5, would be inflicted, as unless the unlicensed hawking of market produce be put a stop to, the Corporation may shut up the market sheds. He also complimented the lessee on the liberal manner in which he was dealing towards the hawkers, as he had of his own accord, without any other reason, reduced the cart license from 4s. to 3s. per week; and in many cases where the hawkers paid the 3s. did not exact the 1s. of market dues; although he was entitled so to do.

NATIVE QUARREL.—On Saturday last there was another engagement between the tribes of Wetere and Katepa, on the banks of the Awaroa. At dawn of day, Katepa and his tribe advanced on the pah of Wetere, firing into it, and challenging their adversaries to come out and engage openly on the field. Wetere and Jabez Bunting, after some hesitation, assented, and the firing was kept up until mid-day, when, by mutual consent, each party retired to their pah for food. In the afternoon hostilities re-commenced, and continued until sundown; but there was no casualty on either side of killed or wounded. That this collision, for a whole day, should have been bloodless, may appear strange—considering how destructive to our troops the armed natives have been in the north; but it must be remembered that the chiefs and tribes of Wetere and Katepa are all relations, and that it is a mere family squabble about family property, and the firing was, as in many European duels, more to preserve, apparently, their honour, than with intent to do mischief. In the evening, just as the firing on both sides had ceased, Te Whero-whero arrived at the pah of Wetere, and expostulated both with him and Katepa, telling them that he was related to both, and would not suffer the continuance of the strife. Wetere and Jabez Bunting were quite willing to accede to the wishes of Te Whero-whero; but Katepa, and some of his restless young men, as well as the women of his tribe, were anxious to continue the quarrel. However, Te Whero-whero left for the Waikato, and Wetere, with Jabez Bunting, and their tribe, are coming over to Hihu Matou, at the head of the waters of Manukao, near Pukake. Some of Te Whero-whero's tribe, who were with Wetere, return to Pukapuka, the pah of E-Nati, at Orakei.—New Zealander.

NEWS FROM THE INTERIOR.

(From our Correspondent.)

BATHURST.

CORONER'S INQUEST.—On Monday, 2nd instant, an inquest was held at Read's Inn, before J. Sutherland, Esq., on the body of a man named John Stapleton, who died rather suddenly in the Gaol the previous day; he had been committed for trial on a charge of cattle-stealing; about Wednesday last he was taken ill, and death ensued from inflammation in the bowels. A verdict of died from natural causes was returned.

PIGS.—Really these animals are allowed to prowl about our town to an unlimited extent, and to the serious annoyance, damage, and great inconvenience of the inhabitants. We cannot conceive what the constables are about, that they do not take some means to rid the town of this nuisance, it must surely be in their province to do so, and we think they would be well employed in abating this pigocracy.

COURT OF REQUESTS.—The February sittings of this Court were held on the 2nd instant, with a list of 19 remanded and — new cases; on that day the remanded cases were disposed of, and as far as No. 80 of the new cases were gone through, and the remainder disposed of on the following day. We attended the sittings for four hours on the first day, but no case during that time was of sufficient importance to need any particular comment.

CARCOAR.—The news from this quarter as to the wheat and hay crops is truly lamentable; in fact, from the information we have lately received, it appears there is scarcely any; and of herbage there is scarcely a blade of grass—potatoes there are none, and other vegetables nearly as scarce.

THE WEATHER.—On Tuesday, about one o'clock we had a smart shower, and again about 4 P.M. a still heavier one, which has had the effect of cooling the air, and will do much good other ways.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND SUNDAY SCHOOL.—On Wednesday, 4th instant, the children attending this school assembled at the temporary Church, and after undergoing an examination as to their progress, marched from thence to the residence of the Rev. Mr. Sharpe, where tea, cakes, and refreshments, were provided for them, and here a distribution of prizes for good behaviour took place; the affair altogether was highly pleasing and gratifying. We counted 52 children in the procession, all of whom were cleanly and respectably dressed, and on quitting the residence of our respected Clergyman, the whole of the youngsters appeared in high glee.

ORIGINAL CORRESPONDENCE.

LIEN ON WOOL ACT.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.

GENTLEMEN,—I admire the good old system of giving dinners. In case it should be thought proper to give Mr. Pott a dinner on his return to the colony for his share in suggesting the Lien on Wool Act, I beg you will remember that I claim a plate of soup and the first cut of the saddle of mutton, the first idea of the Act being mine, and (after some private discussion) having been published by me in your paper of 11th July, 1843; although I do not pretend that it was an original and underived idea, for I had knowledge of its beneficial operation for years in regard to West India properties, several of which were supplied by "our house," by virtue of a similar ordinance, with the means of working. I believe there was a Mr. Pott here at that time, connected with one of the newspapers. I suppose that, with the usual vigilance and discrimination of that intelligent class, he picked up the precious hint, for precious undoubtedly it was, though Mr. Wentworth nearly spoiled it, and though Lord Stanley was blind to its value. When Mr. Pott's affair comes off, I will take my seat quietly on the left hand of the Chairman, or on the right of the Vice, I have not yet determined which will be most agreeable to etiquette, and will slip out unnoticed when I have finished my half-pint of sherry; for I prefer reading the speeches, with reporters' ameliorations, to hearing them spoken.

Yours, modestly,

A.

It must be borne in mind that the station is only fifty miles from water carriage, from thence by steam to Sydney in twenty-four hours, and the proprietors intend to offer everything for sale, in order to make it in every respect complete, and to save the purchaser the inconvenience and expense of conveying the requisite necessaries from the metropolis.
